OUR VICTORY IS YOUR VENGEANCE

Abramowitz, Hyman
Aviezer, Elias
Aylian, George
Brishiki, Anton
Byrne, James J.
Campbell, Joseph
Carlson, Carl Joseph
Cespedes, Filipe
Chapooff, Samuel
Cohen, Abraham
De Armas, Rodolfo
Edwards, Charles, H.
Greenleaf, Robert
Garcia, Andre
Granizio, Emilio
Guigarre, Carlos
Hernandez, Pedro
Jelin, Maurice
Johnson, John
Kunz, John
Lackey, Fred D.
Laskowski, George
Ladman, Louis
Lenther, John
Lenway, Clyde
Leigs, Clare
Mantell, Ben
Marinoff, N.
Martinez, Emilio
Morris, Arthur
Navarro, Aquilino
Niepold, Paul
Norwood, Robert
Pappas, Philip
Pavlich, Matt
Pekow, Milton
Perez, Carlos
Perez, Roman
Pick, Robert C.
Rappaport, Milton
Rosenthal, Julius
Rufo, Angelo
Russell, Michael Schattner, Ted
Romani, Angelo
Streisand, Joseph
Tzeronis, John

Scott, John
Seacord, Douglas
Shapiro, David
Balvage, Thomas
Baura, Ulyses
Hosteck, Sidney
Bigras, Alcide
Block, Paul
Burton, Wallace
Coberan, Stefan
Doherty, James
Danjanovich, Milo
Eaton, Henry
Finkel, Alexander
Goslin, Louis
Watson, Alonzo
Witt, Arthur
Wolk, Robert

Hutner, Daniel
Kuryk, Harry
Levinger, Samuel
Loch, Jacob
Malofsky, Harold
Nyberg, Eric
Parker, Charles
Regan, Charles, J.
Sperry, Charles
Walsh, Robert
Zayac, Micheal
Kendziewski, Roman
Oretchkin, Boris
Schwartz, Abraham
Tananzis, Dostantinas
Van der Brugge,
Venzano, Eugenio
Conejos, Aquilino
Jurdana, Ivan

Panazis, George
Christodolow, C.
Dogianis, Christos
Petaya, Aino Matteo
Millina
Dapiran, Haden
Koskela, Emil
Friedman, Lawrence
Auerback Joseph
Jenei, G.
McQuarrie, Roy
Mass, Fred
Graham, Sydney
Sacks, Harry
Murry Krangel,
Sam Kaplan
Louis Argitas
Lou Levick
Homer Meruelo
Francis Daly
Harry Roberts
Alex Maclure
Joe Dallet
Milton Herndon
Robert Collentine
Victor Franco
Pincus Kaplinsky
Robert Shissler
Dan Pasternack
Jack Shiffman
Matt Elomaki
Julian Baublis
Ben Smith
Nathan, Schilling
Isidore Schrenzel

Horzich, Sam
Lepo, Daniel
The

VOLUNTEER

for

LIBERTY

ORGAN OF
THE VETERANS OF THE INTERNATIONAL BRIGADES
(AMERICAN CHAPTER)

We dedicate this first issue of the VOLUNTEER FOR LIBERTY to the memory of our fellow Americans who gave up their lives in Spain.

These men were brave, though they disliked being told so. Their embarrassment before extravagant praise—an embarrassment which we all shared—arose from their realization that courage is not something which is known only in Spain or which rises miraculously only in the presence of death. It must not be, it can not be divorced from the complex texture of character, growing through natural development and built solidly on experience. Most of these men learned lessons of devotion and self-sacrifice in the labor movement in America. Their going to Spain, was merely a logical extension of their actions here. They themselves saw nothing sudden or startling or surprising in all this.

We are proud to do honor to these our friends and companions, with whom we marched and beside whom we fought.

OUR ORGANIZATION

We who have returned from Spain and have formed the American Section of the Veterans of the International Brigade may be expected to have an especial interest in the setting up of still another anti-fascist organization. If there are two things we all learned in Spain, they are first that there is immediate and pressing need for effective resistance to the growth and spread of fascism, and second, that this can be accomplished only through sound organization.

We are very happy that in present-day America, the friends of progress are not forced to organize by battalions and brigades. We are happy that our American democracy protects us in our efforts to preserve it against threatening reaction. But we see too that much education is needed and that there is much work to be done.

America's relative geographical isolation from Europe and Asia has been in the past, both a blessing and a curse. At the present time it represents a grave danger, for it gives the American people a false sense of security. The average citizen, except those in or near a few large cities—is dependent upon newspapers from which the slightest local occurrence will crowd all but the most world-shaking of foreign events and upon a radio which finds almost any important contemporary topic too 'controversial' for the comfort of its huge and diverse audiences. It is not unnatural, therefore, that he should feel that the physical distance which separates him from Spain and China from Germany and Italy and the Soviet Union means that happenings in these countries can never really affect him.

It is true that in recent months large sections of the American people have become conscious of the tightening of the lines in this country. Political and economic realignments and the great activity in the labor movement have clarified the American scene for millions of people and shown them where the banners of progress are moving. And the dismal collapse, for instance, of the red-baiting attacks on Roosevelt and LaGuardia, demonstrated that the people are certainly not destitute of political intelligence.

But all these stirrings and movements have not been invented all of a sudden by and for America. The world progresses because it is possible for us to learn from our own experience and from that of others. America must advance to meet and solve her problems with the advantage of knowing by what methods and with what results other peoples have confronted problems which are in many ways similar.

To this end the Veterans offer themselves as individuals and as an organization. We pledge ourselves to work shoulder to shoulder with all who strive to disclose the nature and dangers of fascism, with all who combat reaction in all its forms, with all who seek to advance freedom, and democracy and to maintain world peace.

Rotograph, 817.
Broadway. N. Y.
I hear that Comrade Shirai fell.
Who did not know him?
His funny pidgin English,
His smiling eyes,
And his brave heart
Made him loved as a brother
In the Abraham Lincoln Battalion,
JACK SHIRAI of Hakodate
Son of Japanese earth.
Re went to America
Because at home there was no bread;
Became a cook in Frisco.
His art tickled the palates
Of the richest playboys of the city.
In the summer of nineteen hundred thirty-six
as the newspaper wrote,
In Europe, in Spain,
The Fascist wolf had come out to murder.
Jack Shirai packed his few things
And was among the first
To come from America
Helping the Spanish people in their fight
For human rights.
When the bullets whistled
And the tearing shell, burst
Then the boys of the Lincoln Battalion
Watched Jack Shirai.
He had a laughing heart!

Once (in June on the Jarama)
He was sent as a cook
Behind the lines to a hospital.
They liked him there--the sick,
The wounded, everybody.
And the village farmers talked often
Of the Japanese who had come so far for them.
But one day he ran away,
Back to the lines--to the front.
In the North, when we cracked
The ring around Madrid,
He was there as we stormed Brunette,
And Villanueva de la Canada.
As the night was bright
With the shine of the Burning towns,
Torn by exploding bombs
And the voices of the great guns,
JACK SHIRAI FELL.
The Abraham Lincoln Battalion
Of the People's Army of Freedom,
And the Japanese proletariat,
Will not forget him.

LUDWIG D.

In answer to many requests on the part of the Veterans we are printing the,
words to the:
"JARAMA RIVER VALLEY"
(To the tune of the Red River Valley"

There's a valley in Spain called Jarama
It's a place that we all, know too well
For (t'was there that we gave of our manhood
And where most of our best Comrades fell.
We are proud of our Lincoln Battalion
And the stand for Madrid that it made
For we fought like true sons of the soil
As a part of the 15th Brigade.

With the rest of The International Column
In the fight for the freedom of Spain
We swore in that Valley of Jarama
That fascism never would reign.
We have left this dark Valley of sorrow
And its memories we ne'er shall forget
So before we continue this reunion
Let us stand for our glorious dead.

TO YOU, FALLEN IN SPAIN, TO YOU, STILL FIGHTING TO Avenge THE FALLEN AND TO PRESERVE THE CAUSE OF DEMOCRACY AGAINST THE ONSLAUGHT OF FASCISM, AND TO YOU COMRADES, WHO HAVING OFFERED YOUR LIVES AND STRENGTH, AND NOW WOUNDED IN THE STRUGGLE, RETURNED TO CARRY ON THE FIGHT FOR DEMOCRACY HERE IN AMERICA, I EXTEND MY GREETINGS.

WE MUST NOT SLACKEN OUR EFFORTS WITH THE SPIRIT OF DETTERMINATION THAT PREVAILS IN THE INTERNATIONAL BRIGADE-- WE MUST CONTINUE OUR FIGHT FOR THE CAUSE OF DEMOCRACY IN SPAIN AND IN THE WORLD.

BILL LAWRENCE.
Two Greetings to the Conference

Dr. Harry F. Ward and Rabbi Levinger were both invited to speak at our Conference. Being unable to, they sent these letters.